GORDON RESIGNS

PRESIDENT OF HOWARD UNIVER-SITY BOW TO THE INEVITABLE

THE NIAGARA MOVEMENT

Plans a Mammoth William Lloyd Garrison Meeting—Odd Fellows Celebrates Their Anniversary.

Special from Washington, D. C., News Agency.

Dr. John Gordon, president of Howard University, has resigned. This information was given to the Washington News Syndicate from a source known to be strictly reliable. It was stated that the trustees of Howard University have now in their possession the resignation of Dr. Gordon, and that this resignation will be accepted at their next meeting. This information, regarding Dr. Gordon's resignation, is further strengthened by the fact that inquiries at the university revealed the fact that the president was not in the city. Contrary to his usual custom, Dr. Gordon addressed a hasty note to each head of the several departments last week, stating that he was going out of the city and would be away for some time. This departure of Dr. Gordon, made in the singular manner in which it was, is construed to further strengthen the fact that the information as to his resignation is true. The retirement of Dr. Gordon is due to the overwhelming feeling and dissatisfaction which have been manifested by the colored people against his administration, which has been branded as in every way detrimental to the interests and progress of Howard University and entirely out of harmony with the interests and sentiments of the colored people whose children make up the bulk of its attendance. It is a bow to the inevitable.
With the determined fight that has been made upon the administration of Dr. Gordon it could be plainly seen that if his retirement did not come voluntarily it would have to come otherwise. It has long been conceded that his administration was a serious hamp to the university and was, in fact, imperiling its very existence.
With this embarrassing and burdensome situation removed the institution may now resume the progress which has characterized its course from the beginning. This struggle on the part of the colored people, which is now believed to have resulted in the retirement of Dr. Gordon, has been in every particular a worthy one, indicating that the colored people have reached that point in their development where they will no longer endure treatment such as that which they received at the hands of Dr. Gordon, and that their children who are being entrusted to the educational care of such institutions as Howard University are to be trained under a condition thoroughly in harmony with the spirit of the present times—that is unfettered, unprejudiced and free to pursue all forms of education without restriction.

There is absolutely not a word of truth in the recent editorials and news items published in a large number of newspapers to the effect that Baron Hengelmüller of the Austrian Embassy in this city mistakenly carried away the overcoat of Dr. Booker T. Washington from the White House last Saturday when the ambassador and Mr. Booker T. Washington were paying their respects to the Chief Executive. A number of these publications have stated that upon emerging from a conference with the President Baron Hengelmüller took from the White House the overcoat of Dr. Washington and wore it as far as the gate, opening on Pennsylvania avenue, where he discovered the mistake and returned to the White House, leaving Dr. Washington's coat and taking his own. It is true that Dr.
Washington and the Baron were at the White House at that time, but the statement of an exchange of overcoats is absolutely without ground and exist only in the fabulous creative genius of some small reporter with an abnormally diseased imagination, looking for something sensational, whether true or false.

The Niagara Movement, an organization perfected at Niagara Falls last July, and which is composed of a number of prominent colored men from various parts of the country, is planning a mammoth meeting to be held in the Metropolitan A. M. E. church in this city November 30, this being one of the thirty meetings this organization proposes to hold throughout the United States. As stated by one of its members in this city the meeting on the 30th will be for the purpose of preaching Niagara doctrines and to celebrate the anniversary of the apostle of liberty, William Lloyd Garrison.
Addresses will be made by Hon. Geo.
H. White, ex member of congress, who will speak relative to the life and works of Judge Tourgee and the Hon.

D. N. Wharton, formerly attorney general of Ohio, and member of the commission to codify the criminal laws of the United States.

Postmaster General Cortelyou has issued an order reorganizing the entire post office department to take effect December 1. Among the changes recommended by the post master general is the abolishing of the office the United States Stamp agent, an office which has been held by John P.
Green, a colored man from Ohio, who was at one time a member of the Ohio legislature and a member of the Ohio bar. A number of previous rumors to the effect that the head of the post office department had retired Mr.
Green could not be confirmed and Mr.
Green has held his place continuously since his appointment by President McKinley. This recent order works radical changes in the post office department and has, without a doubt, done away with the office of United States Stamp Agent, and Mr. Cortel-you, in his recommendation to congress this winter, will advocate legislation abolishing this particular branch of work in his department. This will unquestionably leave Mr. Green without a federal position.

President Roosevelt issued an executive order a few days ago placing the office of recorder of deeds, of which J.
C. Dancy is chief, under civil service and hereafter all appointments to positions in this office will be made by examination and certification through the civil service commission. The order included the forty persons now making up the force in that office, thirty of whom are colored. The placing of Mr. Dancy's office under civil service is said to have been recommended by the Keep Commission, a committee appointed by the President to investigate and reorganize the various departments in Washington.
The commission in its recommendation to the President praised the efficiency and satisfactory organization of the recorder's office.

One of the notable events of the past week of especial significance to the Odd Fellows of the United States was the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the order of Odd Fellows in the District of Columbia. This celebration was held in the spacious convention hall on K street, and one of the most largely attended functions of its character that has ever been held in this city. A grand street parade was participated in by all the orders after which an address of welcome was delivered by Hon. H. B.
McFarland, commissioner of the District. Addresses were also made by James F. Needham, grand secretary, Philadelphia, Pa.; J. C. Dancy, recorder of deeds; and W. I. Houston, grand director, of this city. W. C.
Martin, ex-District Grand Master, acted as master of ceremonies. Another important and enjoyable feature of the evening's exercises was the prize individual sword drill of the Washington Patriarchs No. 18. Major Arthur Brooks, of the District National Guards, acted as judge, and the prize for excellency in sword drill was awarded to David Fields.

The representative of King Menelek and the Abyssinian government who has been in this country for the last three weeks to bring the greetings of the Abyssinian king and to further strengthen the friendly relations existing between the United States and his country, was to have been presented to the President last Friday at noon. The presentation, however, did not take place at the time appointed, owing to the fact that the Abyssinian representative is desirous of delivering to the president upon the occasion of their meeting a large elephant tusk sent by King Menelek and now in the United States Custom house at New York. This representative is now in Philadelphia and as soon as the president wishes to offer to the Chief Executive can be forwarded, he will come to Washington and be presented.

Bishop J. W. Hood, senior bishop of the A. M. E. Zion church, was stricken with paralysis at his home in Fayette, N. C., week. The latest reports from the bedside of the bishop are everything but encouraging yet it is hoped that he will be fully restored to health.
Bishop Hood is one of the brightest minds in the college of bishops of the A. M. E. church and has filled the office of bishop for over thirty years.
His present illness is a source of deep regret, not only to adherents of the African Methodist church but to all religious denominations.

The money lenders in the United States Pension office have recently received a severe blow from the United States Pension Commissioner Warner's "big stick." The commissioner, with the avowed purpose of ridding his office of those who have been a practice of lending money to fellow clerks at exorbitant rates of interest

NEGRO FINANCE

MOVE TO ESTABLISH A CHAIN OF
BANKS IN THE SOUTH

CAPITAL STOCK $500,000

Enormous Business Done by the Thirteen Negro Banks Last Year—The Incorporators.

New York, Special.—Mr. T. Thomas Fortune, editor of the New York Age, has returned from the South, where he went to meet Negro financiers of that section to form plans for the establishment of a central trust company, or clearing house, to do a general banking business and to establish a chain of banks in the South controlled and managed by colored men. This meeting was to have been held at Louisville, but the prevalence of yellow fever in some of the southern states prevented the attendance of several of those favoring the project and the meeting will be called for at a later date.

Mr. Fortune is the originator of the plan, and some time ago he sent out the following circular to Negroes of importance in the business affairs in the South, and to some in the North.
After a careful consideration of the situation and consultation with thoughtful men of the race, I have decided to move for the incorporation of the Afro-American Trust Co., to be capitalized at $500,000, at $50 per share, to do a general banking business, the main purpose being to establish and maintain a chain of banks in the large cities of the South. Established banks are requested to join the trust upon such terms as may be hereinafter mutually decided upon at the first meeting of the incorporators.

You are requested to become one of the incorporators. Each voting incor-porator must own one share of stock.
The first meeting of the incorporators took place at Louisville, Ky., October 26, 1905. At the first meeting of the incorporators the officers were elected, plan of government of the trust adopted and location of the headquarters of the trust decided upon.

The following persons have consented to act as incorporators of the company, each being a prominent man in his community:

Charles Banks, bank of Mount Mound Bayou, Miss.; J. C. Napier, One Cent Penny Bank, Nashville, Tenn.; Fred R. Moore, president Afro-American Loan & Investment Co., New York; Frederick A. Chew, attorney, Troy, N. Y.; William H. Steward, publisher American Baptist, Louisville, Ky.; W. T. Andrews, insurance and loans, Sumter, S. C.; Theophilus J.
Minton, attorney, Philadelphia; Robt.
T. Terrell, civil justice, Washington, D. C.

"There are at present 13 banks in the South owned and operated by men of my race," said Mr. Fortune. "Of these three are at Richmond, Va., two at Jacksonville, Fla., and one each at Savannah, Ga., Birmingham, Ala., Nashville, Tenn., Mount Bayou, Miss., Jackson, Miss., Greenville, Miss., Natchez, Miss. and Little Rock, Ark.
These institutions are conservatively managed and are successful, and they have been of great benefit, not only to the Negro business men, but to the colored people there generally.

"Personally, I am in favor of locating this trust company in New York but there are others of the incorporators who favor Louisville which is, of course, more central.

"I believe such an institution as I have suggested would be a success in a financial way and make money for those immediately interested, as well as secure benefits and accommodations for Negro banks, who cannot at all times get what they want from banks controlled by white men. How many new banks may be started in the South I cannot say, there are many details to be worked out.

"The men behind this plan believe that in the South exists a large field for banking and trust company operations solely among the Negroes which is not covered at present, although last year the Negro banks did a business of nearly $11,000,000."

dismissed for clerks charged with that offense, among them one colored man.

S. H. Vick, for nine years postmaster at Wilson, N. C., was in the city on Thursday of this week attending to business. His visit is said to have no political significance.

Hon. H. T. Miller, ex-congressman from South Carolina, now president of the University at Orangeburg, S. C., was in attendance during the past week at the sessions of the National Association of Presidents of State Universities.

A PURITAN FESTIVAL.

How Thanksgiving Was Celebrated in Old New England.

Mrs. Ruth Merrill Clark Hardy of the National Society of New England Women gives in the New York Tribune the following account of a real old fashioned Thanksgiving dinner in vogue in New England when she was young:

"For weeks," she says, "the preparations were going on for this great and only Puritan festival, when the children and grandchildren, from far and near, gathered under the old family roof-tree.

"Dinner was not served, as now, in courses, but all sorts of good things were placed at once on the table. If the dining table could not be lengthened sufficiently to accommodate the increased family group, then smaller ones were placed around the room. The snowy linen was that which had been spun and woven in the house.

"Puritan simplicity did not see the need of table adornments outside of the fine white linen, the pears and rosy cheeked apples and the abundance of food. In the center of the table was a roast pig, at one end a big turkey, the choicest of the flock, and at the other a luscious goose. There were cold roast spare ribs and always a chicken pie. The rich crust of this pie was decorated on top with the words 'Give Thanks,' in pastry letters.

"For vegetables there were potatoes, onions, turnips and squash; for appetizers, homemade pickles, cider apple sauce, pepper and melon mangoes. There were plates of delicious white and brown bread and the sweetest of butter. Then followed plum pudding such as only a New England woman can make, mince, pumpkin and apple pie, cranberry tarts and baked sweet apples, hickory, butter and hazel nuts.

"Tea and coffee were served throughout the meal, with the richest of sweet cream, and great pitchers of sweet cider were in evidence, not only at the dinner, but at all times during the day, as was popcorn, which was always enjoyed by the young folks."

AN ARMY THANKSGIVING.

The Famous Plum Pudding of the Hawkins Zouaves.

"In November, 1862," said the veteran who was a drummer boy in the famous Hawkins Zouaves, "we were in camp at Falmouth, directly opposite Fredericksburg, where many of our command fell a little later. We could get nothing but the ordinary rations, but we had prepared for that by starting a company fund several months before for the purpose of supplying a Thanksgiving dinner. There must have been something like $40 in the fund, and our cook kept the disposal of this fund a profound secret.

"It seems ridiculous now, but I don't believe that any child ever waited for the coming of Christmas morning with a keener excitement than we did for that Thanksgiving dinner. When it came at last, we found that the great dish was nothing more or less than a good old fashioned plum pudding, rich and savory. I'll never forget that pudding, but it was the only thing we had.
It had taken all the company fund to buy the flour and other ingredients for the pudding.

"I tell you, though, it seemed mighty good to our stomachs, which had endured a steady diet of hard tack and coffee for weeks. I don't believe that a band of street ragamuffins ever tackled a feast with a keener relish than we poor fellows felt when we devoured that pudding."

Porto Rico's Thanksgiving.

In Porto Rico at Thanksgiving time men who go about selling chickens and turkeys carry them in bundles wrapped with jagua palm. Out of the end of the bundle stick the turkey's long tail feathers, looking like a feather duster. Moreover, these bundled turkeys are still alive, and the woman who purchases her Thanksgiving bird is compelled to board it until she or her lord and master is ready to kill it for cooking.

In that climate refrigerators are rare, and fowls do not keep as long as one might wish. In the markets of Porto Rico the housewife can buy any good things that are possible in America.
The market is usually found on the wide plaza, where buying and selling are attended with much din. Black faced women in white, with gay bandana handkerchiefs about their heads, do the selling, sometimes a couple of little black children tumbling about at their feet. They squat upon the ground among their fruit and vegetables.
Pumpkins may be purchased there of a size that would amaze the American housewife.

Mrs. George Henry Gilbert, the oldest actress on the American stage, died in Chicago; born 1821.

New Jersey's First Thanksgiving.
When, in 1793, the Dutch established themselves in New Jersey for the second time they reorganized the various town governments and set up new governments "under the style of Schout and Schepens." "By virtue of a Commission from ye High and mighty Lords the States General and his Serene Highness the Prince of Orange." On the 15th of the succeeding November the Dutch authorities issued what was probably the first Thanksgiving proclamation issued for New Jersey, and which is the more interesting because Thanksgiving here in New Jersey, as elsewhere, is generally considered of New England origin.—Newark Call.

Thanksgiving in Japan.

The Japanese, often called the "Yankees of the east," have a Thanksgiving day, Oct. 17, on which thanks are given for bounteous harvests.

LOSES HIS CASE

AFTER LEGAL BATTLE HANNAH
ELLIS KEEPS MONEY

SIREN GETS HER RIGHTS

Court Says Millionaire Platt Proved no Charges of Coercion, Blackmail and Fraud.

New York, Special.—The appellate division of the New York State Supreme court recently handed down a decision dismissing a suit brought by John R. Platt against Hannah Elias, a negress, to recover $685,000, which Platt asserted he had given to her under coercion. The court stated in the decision that it was not made on the merits of the case.

"There are in the complaint," the decision reads, "many allegations of acts on the part of Hannah Elias which would result necessarily in a decree requiring her to make restitution to what she received from the plaintiff. The difficulty is that none of the allegations of the complaint respecting fraud, intimidation, threats, coercion or blackmail is proven.

"The plaintiff himself in his testimony in court said that he gave nothing to the defendant Elias under coercion, that all he gave was voluntarily given; that he paid her household bills, spent large sums of money in furnishing lodgings or apartments for her, advised her with reference to the investment in savings banks of some of the money he gave her, and as to the disposition of other sums not so invested.

"It is also true that the plaintiff says that he gave large sums of money to Mrs. Elias to prevent anything of our relations coming out to the public but there was nothing in his testimony to indicate that there was any threat on the part of Mrs. Elias to expose those relations."

Air Pressure.

At the level of the sea the pressure of the atmosphere on the piston of an engine is about fifteen pounds to the square inch, but decreases at higher altitudes. As this atmospheric pressure must be overcome by the steam pressure before any work can be done, it is evident that at the diminished air pressure of high altitudes more work can be obtained from a given pressure of steam than at the sea level, or, in other words, an equally effective pressure of steam can be obtained with the expenditure of less fuel. The difference, however, is not great enough to be of any practical importance.

Bounty For Sculps.

During the French-Indian war of 1754 the French offered a bounty for British scalps. In the same year a bounty of £100 each was offered by the authorities of the several colonies. In 1755 Massachusetts granted a bounty of £40 for every scalp of a male Indian over twelve years of age and £20 each for the scalps of women and children.
In 1764 John Penn, grandson of William Penn and governor of Pennsylvania, offered a bounty of $150 for every "Indian buck" killed and scalped.

The Conditions Differ.

Husband (with newspaper)—When I'm at home you are forever hammering at that piano or else your tongue is running like a trip hammer. It wasn't so before we were married. Wife—No, it wasn't. Before we were married you held my hands so I couldn't play and kept my lips so busy that I couldn't talk.

No Help in Supreme Court.

The supreme court of the United States has added another to its long list of anti-Negro decisions. This time Judge Emory Speer of the Southern Federal district of Georgia has been reversed in the Henry Jamison case.
The prisoner was a colored man, an old family servant, who was arrested March 13, 1904, upon the charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was fined $60 and in default of the payment thereof was committed to the county chain gang for 210 days. In this case iron manacles were riveted upon the legs of the prisoner and he was made to wear the striped clothing of a convict. Judge Speer held that he had not been convicted by due process of law and that infamous punishment for a misdemeanor and without according to him—no trial as such punishment could not be legally inflicted save upon conviction for a felony.
The Supreme Court of the United States, contrary to its usual custom, reversed Judge Speer without even giving a written opinion and thereby consigning Henry Jamison to further punishment at the hands of the chain gang officials of Georgia. We reiterate in view of the present composition of that federal tribunal that justice that we cannot get from our state supreme courts, we shall do without—

Nov. 26 In History.

1728—Oliver Wolcott, one of the "signers," born in Windsor, Conn.; died 1797.
1772—The Sandwich Islands discovered by Captain Cook.
1888—Serrano (Francisco Serrano y Domínguez), ex-Marshall and ex-dictator of Spain, died in Madrid; born 1800.
Shortly before his death Serrano declared he had seen 80 changes of ministry in Spain, twice over rebellions and 12 changes in the head of state. His prominence in the stormy affairs of the realm were due to promotions won in battle by great personal gallantry and the favoritism of Queen Isabella.
He defeated the Liberal Espartero and soon after the marriage of Isabella acquired great influence in her court.
He was at one time captain general of Cuba.
1894—Czar Nicholas II. of Russia married at St. Petersburg to Princess Alix of Hesse Darmstadt.
1899—Great Britain formally notified the powers of the state of war in South Africa resulting from the Boer Invasion of British territory.
1904—General attack on the Russian fleet at Port Arthur begun by the Japanese.

Nov. 27 In History.

1778—John Murray, the famous publisher who issued "Byronic" works, born in London; died
there 1812.
1838—Georges Monton, count of Lohan, distinguished in Napoleon's battles and afterward a marshal of France, died at Paris; born 1770.
1862—Ada Augusta, countess of Lovelace, only child of Lord

FLAGSHIPGUNNER

GEORGE YOUNG OFFICER ON HIS MAJESTY'S SHIP DRAKE

ENGLISH REWARD ABILITY

His Studious Attention to "Gunnery" Attracts Attention of the English Naval Officers.

New York has been all agog for the past few days over the visit of Prince Louis, of Battenberg, in command of King Edward's second cruiser squadron.

Among the seamen are seven Englishmen of color. One of the most interesting personages of the entire fleet is George Young, a colored officer of the British navy, who is chief gunner aboard the Prince's flagship, the Drake. He was interviewed in his quarters aboard ship and courteously escorted an Age representative in a tour of inspection of the entire fleet.

Chief Gunner Young has had a remarkable life. Born in the United States in Massachusetts he went to England some twenty years ago, severed his allegiance to the stars and Stripes, becoming an English subject and enlisted in the British navy. His constant devotion to his duties and his studious attention to gunnery attracting the attention of Lieutenant Tierney.
Young was made a gunner's mate on the Burwick. In gun practice he became such an adept—achieving the second highest percentage—that he was promoted after a competitive examination to be a gunner on the Bur-wick. Among those coming under his instructions was Prince Alexander, nephew of Prince Louis, of Battenberg, a cadet on the Burwick. Afterwards Mr. Young was transferred to Persons desiring to secure suggestive program for William Lloyd Garrison Centennial Exercises, December 10, '05, can secure same without charge, except for postage, by addressing Mr. Hugh M. Brown, Cheney, Pa. This program has been prepared by Hon. Archibald H. Grimké, of Boston, with the help and co-operation of Mr. Garrison's sons, Messrs William Lloyd, Jr., and Francis J. Garrison.

And Hannah Elms will keep the money.

A new deal and a square deal is a good enough deal for us all. It means the better class of citizens for a better class of appointments. It hardly means the giving of the offices to the same old crowd.

Every Colored minister in this state ought to take cognizance of the Garrison Centenary in his sermons on December 10th. We feel that this will be done and the day will be revered in memory of a true friend in our darkest hours.

The fire that threatened the destruction of Bethel church last week, brings to mind the fact that this church was in no wise prepared to meet any such loss. The reason is plain to be seen. And what is true of this church is true of too many of our institutions, and true of a vast majority of individual homes. The struggles and savings of a life time are likely to be wiped out in a twinkling, with no financial recourse. You should remedy this important oversight at once by securing proper fire insurance.

The practice of the South in putting out of commission all Colored military companies, is probably intended to curtail the Negro's knowledge of military tactics and the manual of arms. The war record of the Negro race from Christopher Attucks down to San Juan Hill ought to prevent any such base action and shame those who would approve it. The military branch of the big secret organizations will promptly fill the want.

NEGRO TRUST.

The promoters of the proposed Negro Trust Company are deserving of a hearty support and encouragement. The idea should mature into a full realization of their hopes. The time is here when the Negro prove his worth and ability, or else fail. He must cease being known as a dependent race and make good the opportunities with in his grasp. Self-development and self-reliance must be the goal of our endeavors, and this Trust company is but an evolution. If there be any doubting Thomases, as to the success of the venture, let them rest assured that the Negro will feel his way to success in this as in every other business venture.

And another thought. The success of this enterprise, peculiar as it is, will depend largely upon the location. It must not only be central but should have the proper atmosphere surrounding in the business world. So in seeking a location the promoters ought not overlook the many advantages of Indianapolis. We boast that no city will be found to excel ours. We have the natural advantages, the proper degree of encouragement in both races; and fills the bill to perfection. We have more Colored men in business than any other Northern city. The Recorder takes pleasure in extending the hand of welcome to the Negro Trust Company in behalf of Indianapolis.

It is said that Mayor-elect Bookwalter is planning to do the handsome thing in recognizing the Colored vote. Candidates for appointment are galore, and even the political wise acres are "in the air" as to just where the lightning will strike. The fact that the Colored vote was cast without the use of a boodle fund is to our credit. Several good appointments as well as the minor ones will make good the promise of a square deal.

There's Something to Be Thankful For

There's sumthin' to be thankful fur, no matter how things go—In summer time fur fruit an' flowers, in winter time fur snow.
 There's sumthin' sort o' pleasant happens to us every day.
 An' life's a perfect picnic if we look at it that way.
 There's always sumthin' purty fur our weary eyes to see—The glory o' the sunset or the blossoms on the tree—An' always sumthin' tuneful fur our tired ears to hear—The children's voices chirpin' or the robin's music clear.
 There's always sumthin' ready fur our willin' hands to do—Sum hallin' steps to help along, sum job to carry through—No chance to be a-kickin' when our feet are busy goin'— No time fur idle growlin' when we're plantin' seed an' sowin'.
 There's sumthin' to be thankful fur, no matter how things go—
 No end to all our blessin' if we only count 'em so.
 An' even if you're out o' sorts, or sick, or sad, or pore, Jest thank the Lord you're livin' if you can't do nothin' more.

HOW TO COOK A TURKEY.

The Recipe of a Famous New York Chef.

A chef who has for many years presided over the cuisine of one of New York city's best hotels gives this recipe for preparing and cooking the Thanksgiving turkey:
 "Slit the neck of the turkey from the back of the head down its whole length and with the fingers separate the skin from it. Cut the skin a little above the middle and pull apart, then cut the neck off at the base. That will leave the skin intact for further use.
 "Take the intestines out through an incision in the abdomen, but first take out the crop by inserting the finger where you have cut the neck off. Loosen the strings or pipes, inside and pull them easily, then the whole crop will come out intact. Wash well, and the turkey will be ready for stuffing.
 "For the stuffing soak a small stale loaf of bread in cold water and when soft squeeze all the water out; place in a bowl, add salt, pepper, thyme or sage or both; fry one onion chopped fine in four ounces of butter and a little ham, bacon or salt pork; cut fine, add a whole egg and mix well. Stuff the crop or wishbone part thoroughly and fasten the skin over it on the back of the turkey with a skewer or sew it; the rest put inside. Bake the turkey in a hot oven and cook about ninety minutes."

A Thanksgiving Game.

One of the funniest of the funny games peculiar to Thanksgiving time is called "hunt the turkey."
 Go out to the kitchen and take the turkey out of the oven and bring it in and hide it somewhere in the parlor. Under the lace curtains in the windows is a good place or you might shove it down inside of the piano. Then let the guests come in and hunt for it. The person who finds it must hit some one with it before the person can get it back to the other room, which is home base. It is not fair to throw the turkey, as it must be swung by the hands. If a person accidentally knocks over a lamp or breaks a picture or throws the turkey through the window he or she must pay a forfeit.
 Of course this game, which is funny and one in which both young and old may join, must not be played longer than half an hour before the time set for the dinner, for the turkey must be taken back to the oven and allowed to finish cooking before being carried to the table. It is not fair to take bites out of the turkey when it is found and it is also against the rules of the game to kick the turkey around the room. It must be held in the hands, right side up, so that the stuffing will not fall out.—New York World.

Making the Proclamation.

There is a good deal of form and ceremony about the making of the Thanksgiving proclamation. It is composed by the president himself and in most instances written out in his own hand. When this is done the document goes to the state department, where it is carefully copied in ornamental writing that is almost like engraving on the official blue paper of that department. The next thing needed on the document is the great seal of the government. This seal is kept by the clerk of pardons and commissions, and it is very carefully guarded under lock and key. Its keeper will not produce it without a special warrant signed by the president, and an impression of the seal is quite a ceremony in itself. When the proclamation has been thusly signed and sealed many copies are made of it by clerks, and one is sent to the governor of every state in the Union. It is also given out then to the press agents, who telegraph it all over the United States. Each governor, as he receives it, issues one himself for his state.

Had All the Varieties.

Violet For Mourning.

It was not by accident that violet was chosen by many nations as the exclusive color for mourning and by us also for half mourning. Painters suffering from hysteria and neurasthenia will be inclined to cover their pictures uniformly with the color most in accordance with their condition of lassitude and exhaustion. Thus originate the violet pictures of Manet and his school, which spring from no actually observable aspect of nature, but from a subjective view due to conditions of the nerves. When the entire surface of walls in salons and art exhibitions of the day appears veiled in uniform half mourning this predilection for violet is simply an expression of the nervous debility of the painter—Nordau's "Degeneration."

The Young Womens' Club Home.

While every resource is exhausted for the protection and accommodation of the white girl, and in nearly all of our large cities the Y. M. C. A., is supported for both colored and white young men the colored girl and her needs are completely ignored in the city's philanthropy, regardless of her social prestige and financial standing the matter of securing protective accommodation often becomes for her a very serious problem.

The Young Womens' Club Home, located at 866 W. Walnut street, and established for the highest development and protection of self respecting girls and women will try in its limited way to supply this long felt need. The club home contains a reading room, sleeping accommodation for three dining room and kitchen, classes in Bible study, sociology, current topics, Negro literature and domestic science are some of the privileges offered, and while it is the desire to make the home contribute as far as possible to its own support by charging a small fee for class work no girl striving for her best development will be denied any of its privileges, regardless of her ability or inability to pay.

The high school class in gymnastics meets Friday afternoon and the Working Girls' association on Thursday afternoon. One of the special features of the work will be consideration of the young woman in service who, far from home and among strangers, with no one to manifest an interest in her spends many lonely hours or growing discouraged yields to the association ever seeking to lead young people astray and thus sacrifices a life capable of use and beauty. The spirit of the club home is "Not aims, but a friend; not cash, but character," and every self respecting young woman will be cordially welcomed to its membership. The interest of the public is solicited in the development of this needed work.

DAYNE D. WALKER, President.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON IX, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 26.

Text of the Lesson, I Cor. 2. 23-33. Memory Verses, 31-33—Golden Text, I Cor. 1. 12—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1905, by American Press Association.] We must not allow any topic, however important, to take our thoughts from the topic of the whole epistle and of the whole Bible, the salvation of Jehovah, and the Lord Jesus Christ Himself, that salvation. It is always most important and helpful to notice the beginning and the ending of it, and that again is suggestive of Him who says, "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord" (Rev. i. 8). The epistles generally begin and end with "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ," a definition of which is found in I Cor. vii. 9, but it brings before us the beginning, continuance and consummation of our salvation (Rom. iii. 24; v. 2; I Pet. i. 13). The return of Christ to complete our personal salvation, the redemption of the body, and to bring salvation to all Israel and all nations is seen in chapters i. 7, 8; xvi. 22, and all through the epistle, and nothing will deliver from the drunken or any other form of the self life like this blessed purifying hope.

A book or epistle is often divided into sections, and the divisions of this epistle are easily recognized by the words "Now concerning" or "Now as touching" (vii. 1; viii. 1; xii. 1; xvi. 1). Our lesson is in the section concerning things offered unto idols, and idols suggest the devil and demons and not God (verses 19-21; Deut. xxxii. 17; Ps. xvi. 36, 37). Chapter viii. 6, is a very helpful word covering the whole life of the believer—one God, the Father, and one Lord, Jesus Christ, of whom and by whom are all things. Then in our lesson (x. 31), "Whether therefore ye eat or drink or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God," sets before us all that is required of us. But, oh, it means so much, this whole hearted denial of self and living unto God! Discipleship is very costly, and therefore among all Christians there are few who are willing to be always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake that the life of Jesus may be made manifest in our bodies (II Cor. iv. 11).

There are many things lawful, not sinful, to the believer which are neither expedient nor edifying. A redeemed person has been purchased by the precious blood of Christ that he may be the Lord's own possession, set apart for Himself, henceforth living unto Him who died for him and rose again (Tit. ii. 14; R. V.; Ps. iv. 8; II Cor. v. 35), and the great question is not, Can I do this or that without harm to my spiritual life? but rather, Will it please the Lord, and will it magnify Him in the sight of others? In chapter ix. 12, the writer says, "We suffer all things lest we should hinder the gospel of Christ," his aim being "by all means to save some," and so to deny himself that his own life and service should not be disapproved (ix. 22-27). The Israelites who conformed to the ways of the ungodly about them and were cut off for their sins are referred to as examples of God's hatred of sin, and we are warned not to live selfishly, as they did, assured that, while all are tempted, God, who is faithful, will never suffer His own to be tried too much or too long, but will invariably deliver.

It is not for us to be ever inquiring of others, Is this unto God or the devil? Nor are we to judge others, for even the Son of Man came not to judge, but with clean hands and a pure heart walk before and with God, and let the King of Glory fill the house. "For the earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof" (Ps. xlv). We can mingle with people, eat in their homes, seek their welfare, conform in a measure to their ways without criticism or fault finding, provided we are not seeking profit for ourselves, but the profit of many, that they may be saved, and in all things that God may be glorified (verses 31, 33). When our hearts are right with God, we will ever remember the Lord Jesus and consider Him, and He, dwelling in our hearts, by faith will live His life in us to the glory of God and the good of all men.

Oh, how little of Christ there is in many who hear His name! He never pleased Himself, He never sought His own will nor His own glory. He did always those things that pleased the Father. He gave Himself to suffer in our stead what no tongue can tell that we might be saved. The only salvation for sinners is in Christ, and when He is truly received, and the life surrendered to Him, then we will not live to please ourselves nor think of ever judging others, but judge this rather that no man put a stumbling block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way, for every one of us shall give account of himself to God (Rom. xiv. 12, 13). On the line of offenses we must seek two things—never be an offense to others, and never be offended with our blessed Lord because of anything He does or permits to be done (John xvi. 1; Luke vii. 23).

There is in verse 32 a threefold division of people recognized throughout the New Testament, and the one must not be confounded with the other. The church is never called Israel, for Israel is a nation with a land, while the church is an elect company gathered out of all nations, having no special portion of earth, but destined to reign with Christ over the whole earth (Rev. v. 10), when all nations shall be blessed through Israel. If we take the marginal or revised version, Greeks instead of gentiles, then we are carried back to chapter i. 22-24.
